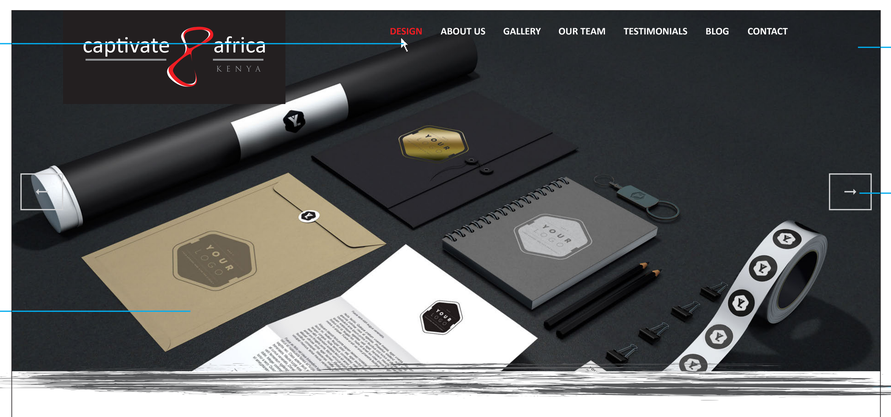
When you click on Design, the menu bar at the top has the 'Design' tab on the left.
Does that mean that if I had clicked 'Outdoor' instead, the first tab on the left will then show "Outdoor"?
Is this the idea about 1 website with mini-websites each section as a kind of website on its own?
Please clarify?

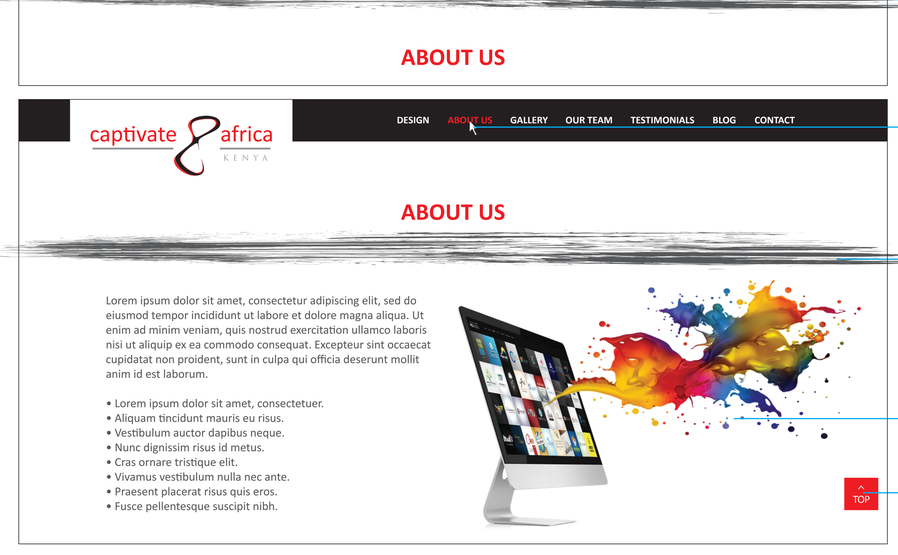
Can we get a site map of the whole website?

Is it possible to add a subtle, grungy wall texture in the background? To give the page a more "Captivate Africa" feel?
Your thoughts?

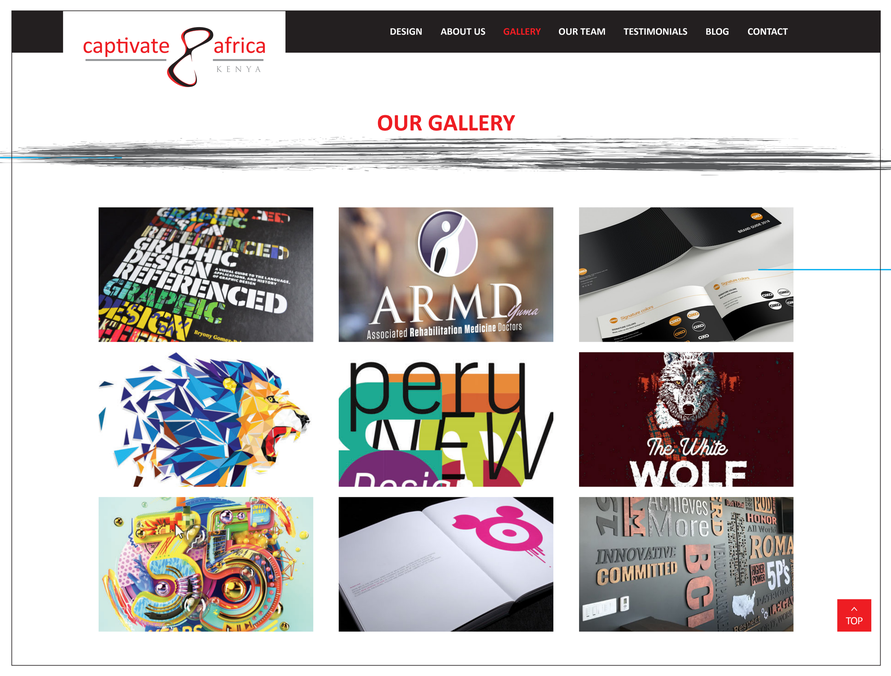


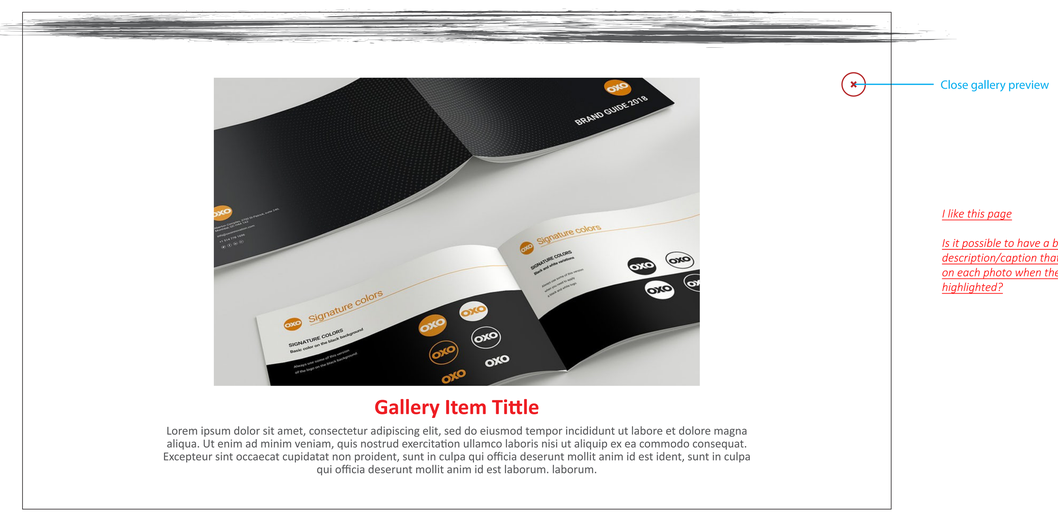
I like this page - funky and eye-catching.
Will each home page for the other 'mini-sites' be like this?

Is it possible to replace the images with video on these slides?



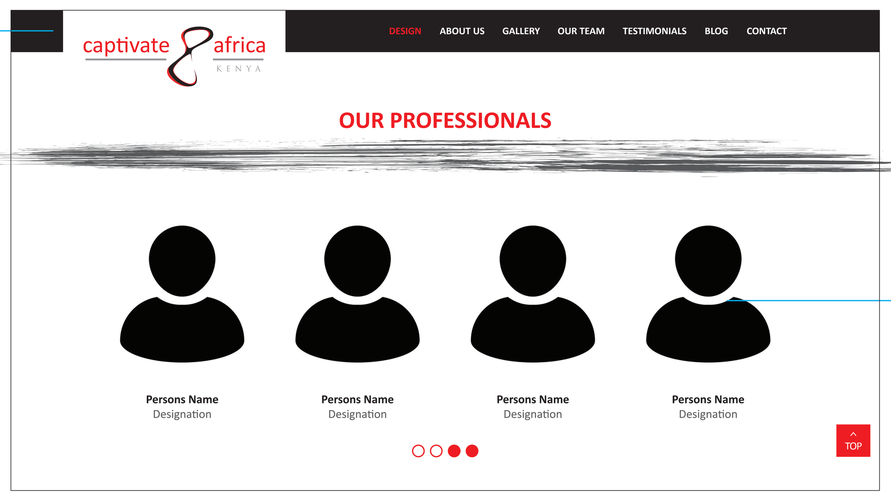
I like this page... and the use of the brush stroke



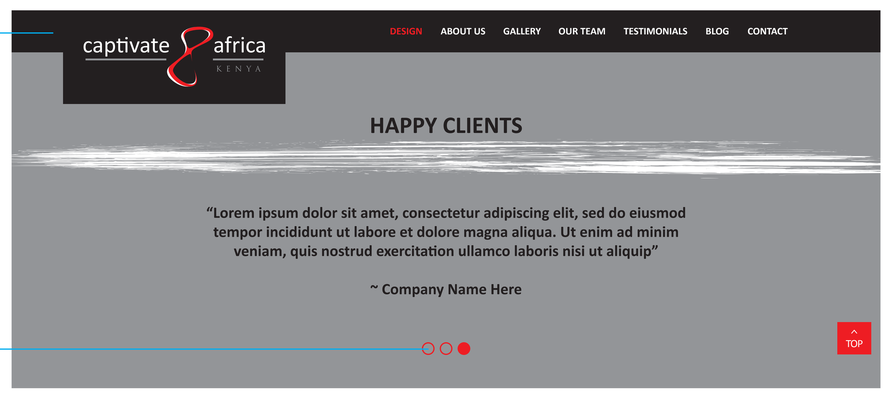


I like this page

Is it possible to have a brief description/caption that appears on each photo when they are highlighted?



Team page looks good



Will the testimonials and blog pages be the same for all the mini-sites?
